Jury Urges Firing Of County Chief Over Bid Practices

A strongly-worded county grand jury resolution was drawn up Wednesday by District Attorney Keith Sorenson asking the board of supervisors to go "even to the extent of removing from office" County Manager Robert Stallings for violations of legal procedure in letting contracts.

In a split vote Tuesday, the grand jury asked Sorenson to draw up resolution censuring Sorenson for letting contracts over $2000 without drawing up specifications and calling for public bidding as called for in state government code section 25450.

The resolution referred to the fact that after a lengthy investigation the grand jury had found Stallings wasn't following legal procedure in letting of contracts over $2000 and was bypassing the purchasing agent in not having proper requisition for expenditures on lesser items. The official reprimand said further that, "These practices are not to be condoned and it has been determined that the manager is hereby censured and the board of supervisors is hereby respectfully requested to take such disciplinary action against the county manager for said violations as they deem advisable even to the extent of removing him from office."

A jury committee of Carl Jones, James Smith and Anita Sultan met with Sorenson Wednesday to draft the resolution.

Chief Violations

Among Stallings' chief violations taking place between 1951 and 1953 was the $20,000 restoration job on the old Sanchez Adobe, an historic structure in Pedro Valley—and restoration work on the superior courts in Redwood City, the jury said.

The news "blackout" is apparently on at the Daly City police station.

A special gate, operated by a buzzer from the main desk, has been installed to keep the newsmen out, and reporters are no longer allowed to scan the officers' day reports.

The ballplayer and his family didn't find Mexico to their liking. Another Daly City baseballer who has toiled with Raboh in the pants-pressing business during the winter months is MARINO PIERETTI of the Sacramento Solons.

Trustee Asks Revision Of Westmoor Hi

Suggestion that the Jefferson Union High school district board ask Architect Mario Ciampi to redraw plans for Westmoor High school was made Monday night by Trustee Raymond Whitney. The board member's request was based on his claim that Westmoor, as it is now planned, will hinder the district if the district is forced to go on state aid before building the proposed Sharp Park school.

Whitney is the only member on the five-man board from the coastside, where it is predicted that the elementary school enrollment will be the highest in the country by 1960.

Superintendent Stanford Hannah, who termed Whitney's proposal "silly" at Monday night's meeting, said that the district has already paid Ciampi $120,000 for the present plans. He explained today that the $120,000 would only be a portion of the loss, as Ciampi still has other bills not yet submitted to the board.

Westmoor Delay

Hannah also objected to Whitney's suggestion because of the delay it would cause in completing Westmoor. Opening date has already been held up because of a mixup in bids, which resulted in a second calling for contractors' proposals to be opened by the board next Monday.

Mrs. Mildred McGeein was the first member of the board to openly oppose the coastside trustee's request. "Why didn't you present this idea before?" she asked.

COUNTY PUTS UP $7000 FOR WORK ON HILLSIDE BLVD.

San Mateo county has contributed $7000 toward the improvement of Hillside boulevard in Daly City, the council learned Monday night.

The total project will cost an estimated $28,000, and first portion of the job, installation of drains and catch basins, is scheduled to start in January, according to City Manager Howard Stites.

Stites said the city would wait until the winter rains were over to start actual re-surfacing of the heavily traveled thoroughfare.

The paving portion of the job will cost $15,000, while approximately $13,000 will be spent on the drainage measures.

The council decided Monday to file application with the state asking their participation in the drainage job. City Engineer Cyril Weiler said the state might agree to financing up to 50 per cent of the $13,000 project. Should the state contribute half of the drainage, the entire Hillside project would cost the city approximately $14,500.

A letter of appreciation was ordered sent to the county supervisors for allocating money for the improvements.

JAMES BERGSTROM, rookie police officer, points out a bullet lodged near the door of "The Casbah," 6192 Mission street, during a gun battle early Monday morning. This same bullet is suspected of ricocheting off the edge of the bar, passing through the hand of a bandit, and finally ending in the wall where shown here. Bergstrom, who was off-duty, fired three shots at the bandits before they escaped with $450 from the cash register. Six bullets, fired by the thugs, narrowly missed the police officer.

Cop, Bandits Exchange Gun Fire In Bar Holdup

Rookie Police Officer James Bergstrom engaged in a blazing gun battle with two thugs who robbed a local tavern of $450 in an armed holdup early Monday morning. A total of nine shots were fired, six by one of the bandits and three by Bergstrom, 25, 40 Miriam street.

The officer, who had just gone off duty, reported that he entered

"The Casbah," 6192 Mission street, about 1:40 a.m. for a beer. While seated at the bar, he saw one of the customers rise to leave and then suddenly draw a .38 calibre revolver.

"Let's all get into the men's room," the bandit ordered. Bergstrom, who was sitting at the far end of the bar, said he did not hear the command but saw the gun and knew a holdup was in progress.

The officer, along with Owner John Porter Trimble, a waitress and three male customers, were herded into the men's room. Bergstrom declared he saw the second bandit looting the cash register as he left.

Bergstrom apparently waited until the other persons were safe in the men's room and then stepped into the main room.

Drawing his police revolver, he shouted, "Drop your guns."

Survey Predicts Huge Upswing In Jeff Hi Enrollment

Enrollment in Jefferson Union High school district will be more than doubled by 1960, it has been predicted in the county wide continuing survey being conducted by Doctors William Odell and James McConnell of Stanford University.

Approximately 1750 students are now attending Jefferson, while estimated attendance for 1960 is 4312 pupils.

At Monday night's meeting of the school board, Superintendent Stanford Hannah explained that the survey's figures have proved accurate this year with an estimate of 1746 enrollment.

Future enrollments were predicted as follows: 1956, 2156; 1957, 2537; 1958, 2875; 1959, 3346; and 1960, 4312.

The survey also estimated that the present district assessed valuation of $58,000,000 should rise to $65,000,000 by next year and $104,000,000 by 1960.

COMPLETE HALF OF S-D DAY WITH NO ACCIDENTS

Daly City and Broadmoor both had achieved no-accident records when this paper went to press at noon Thursday, December 1. Half of Safe-Driving Day had been completed, but 12 hours remained of the nation-wide observance in which citizens were asked to take special care in driving and walking.

Daly City Traffic Inspector Hank Sundermann told THE RECORD at press time that important thing about S-D day is that it focuses attention on "good behavior" in traffic.

"If residents can erase or cut down on accidents on S-D Day, it shows that it can be done every day," the traffic inspector declared.

$1,000,000 CITY HOSPITAL IS PROPOSED BY DC COUNCILMAN

A $1,000,000 hospital, which would be financed through either a municipal or district bond issue, was proposed Monday night by Councilman Del Wilson.

He said the facility would be similar to Sequoia hospital and that a separate wing could be rented to the San Mateo county health department for a welfare operation and baby clinic.

According to Wilson, one-third of the cost would be borne by the state, one-third by the federal government, with the balance being paid for by the city or district.

Wilson brought forth the proposal while the council was discussing acquisition of a site for a north county health center, for which the county has allocated approximately $80,000.

Wilson said, "Why build a health center now when in two or three years we might have a hospital a few blocks away? I want to avoid duplication."

Pete Markovich, one of the directors of the county welfare board, said such a hospital proposed by Wilson would be "wonderful," but warned that the city should still spur its efforts to find a site for a county health clinic.

"We have $190,000 available for health facilities in the north county," Markovich said. He declared that unless Daly City got busy and acquired a site the money might be spent elsewhere.

Arthur Bodien, member of the county planning commission, agreed with Markovich, stating that, "We have asked Daly City to select a site. If they don't the (Continued on Page 2)

DC'S "OPERATION SANTA CLAUS" IS SET INTO MOTION

The part of Santa Claus will be played this Christmas by a group of local individuals and organizations now busy setting their plans into operation. Spokesman Peter Markovich issued a plea today that persons interested in helping the drive contribute toys and cash donations to the group.

Toys may be delivered to the two Daly City firehouses, located at Santa Barbara and Parkview, and Lake Merced boulevard near Alemany. It is asked that the toys be marked as to sex and age of the child to which they are suited.

Markovich said that cash contributions may be sent in care of his office, 6454 Mission street, or in care of Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy at Daly City Firehouse No. 5, Lake Merced boulevard.

A total of 58 families, including 200 youngsters, are now on the list to receive Christmas gifts. Markovich stated. He added that the list will undoubtedly be expanded before Christmas day.

Meeting Tuesday night to plan the operation were Mel Battye, president of the Lions club; Fire Chief Kennedy; Hank Weisner and Keith Schrock, City Employees association representatives; and Markovich, Jack Colthurst, John Muller and John Burke, St. Vincent De Paul society representatives. Also to take an active part in the drive are the Daly City Rotary club and the Eagles post and auxiliary.

Thief Takes 25 Canaries From Blacksmith's Home

Local police may have to take up bird calling to solve a crime committed at the home of John Callan, blacksmith of 196 Werner street. Callan has reported that 25 German Roller canaries were stolen from an aviary in his backyard on Friday night.

According to the owner, the lock on the backyard fence had been broken to gain entry. Callan said he noticed the 25 canaries were missing when he was feeding his birds the following morning.

Daly City Considers Withdrawing From County Library Pact

Daly City council renewed contract with the county Monday night for providing library services, but gave notice that the agreement may be on the way out. Councilmen set next Monday night at 8:15 p.m. to meet with the library commission to consider withdrawing from the county's library program.

City Manager Howard Stites explained to the council that the city residents are billed 8 1/2 cents per $100 valuation for library services offered by the county. This creates some $23,855 in revenue, of which only about $10,000 is spent immediately in Daly City.

By withdrawing from the county program, Stites said the city could raise its municipal library tax, now eight cents per $100, and still pay less for library services.

He estimated the municipal tax would only have to be raised four cents per $100, bringing cost of financing library facilities to 12 cents per $100, as compared to 16 1/2 cents per $100 under the agreement with the county.

Second Salk Polio Injections Planned IN DC On Saturday

Nearly 500 children are expected to receive a second injection of Salk polio vaccine to be administered Saturday at the county health center, 7375 Mission street.

Youngsters who received their initial shot last June and who attend schools in Daly City, Bayshore, Brisbane, Colma, Pacific Manor, Sharp Park or Linda Mar are eligible for the shots.

The county health department emphasized that records of previous vaccinations will be on hand at the Mission street center and that only children meeting the above specifications will be eligible to receive the vaccine.

Other youngsters, whose parents wish that they be given vaccine, should be taken to their family physicians, a spokesman said.

Ex-Con, Suspected Of DC Robbery, To Be Arraigned In SF

Kenneth Carpenter, 30-year-old ex-convict, suspected of engineering the recent $3000 armed robbery at Tiny's bar, is scheduled to appear in San Francisco superior court on a charge of performing similar robberies in that city. Exact date of arraignment has not yet been set, pending filing of information by the district attorney.

Carpenter, 2915 School street, Oakland, was bound over from municipal to superior court on Friday.

The ex-convict was arrested after San Francisco police were able to trace him through an identification of his car, which was parked outside of a tavern during a holdup. A passerby gave police detailed information on the registration and license number of the auto.

It is probable that the local warrant for Carpenter will be dropped if he is convicted in San Francisco, according to Police Inspector Bruno Conci.

High Bidder Wins Contract On Equipment

In a split vote Monday night, Daly City council awarded contract for supplying a tractor and end loader to the high bidder.

Three firms had bid on the equipment, offering the following proposals: Contractors Machinery Co., $6768.13; Bay Cities Equipment Co., $9193.78; and Oliver Corp., $5677.49.

The contract went to Bay Cities Co. because it was "the best investment for our money," according to the three councilmen who favored the purchase, Del Wilson, Michael De Bernardi and Ed Dennis.

Mayor Joseph Verducci, while agreeing that the equipment offered by Bay Cities would do the best job for the city, declared that awarding contract to the high bidder would set a dangerous precedent.

"Be Careful"

"We have to be careful," the mayor said, "because in the past the council's policy has always been to accept the low bid."

Wilson, however, moved to accept the more expensive equipment on the basis that the taxpayers would be getting the most for their money.

In voting against the motion, Verducci said, "In the future we should draw restrictive bids if we want a specific type of equipment."

"If taxpayers don't feel they're getting their money's worth, there's an election coming up," commented DeBernardi.

"That's easy for you to say," answered Verducci. "You're not coming up for two and a half (Continued on Page 2)

Nine witnesses paraded to the stand last Wednesday in defense of Recreation Director James Mason's action in dismissing 49-year-old custodian Sam Valentino.

In a three-hour hearing before civil service board of review, Valentino called two witnesses to testify on his behalf to refute charges of insubordination and his "disturbing influence" on other employees.

The hearing was first scheduled to be a private session, but was declared open to the press at the last minute.

Valentino, a city employee for two years, was specifically discharged for allegedly refusing outright an order by Mason to help carry garbage cans to the street. The incident was said to have occurred on November 3, at which time Mason fired the custodian.

"Actions Provoked"

Valentino based his defense generally on the fact that his actions were provoked by Mason, that he was overworked, that Mason directed abusive language toward him, and that handling garbage cans was not his job.

First to appear for Valentino was Miss Marjorie Tobias, principal at Olympia and Benjamin Franklin schools.

She said Mason had come to her for advice on one occasion and had said regarding Valentino, "It's either my position or his."

Mason denied making this statement.

The principal also said that Valentino, who formerly worked for the school district under Miss Tobias, had related that Mason had used abusive language against him.

In fact, Miss Tobias said that in a conversation with Mason, she had repeated Valentino's charge of the abusive language, to which Mason had admitted, using the language, stating it was on "impulse."

"I deny that," Mason answered.

"Embarrassment" Among charges against Valentino was that he had embarrassed other recreation workers by failing to help enforce the law, prohibiting liquor at the community center.

Valentino was said to have counter-tenanted drinking at the building on an occasion June 25 when the (Continued on Page 2)

Public Hearing Is Set On Annexation Of Dump Site

Daly City's plans to establish a fill and cover dump site on the coast came nearer reality this week as city council set January 9 as date for public hearing on annexation of 84 acres of property extending from Westlake to Mussel rock.

The annexation includes 10 acres of Henry Doelger land which will be subdivided.

At their Monday night meeting, the council adjourned to next week in order to speed-up negotiations for purchase of the barren land from owner John MacReady. The city's $1 option to purchase expires December 10. MacReady has set a price tag of $58,000 on the land, but the council is expected to hear from an appraiser Monday night and predicts a lower figure.

If MacReady refuses to sell at the appraisal price, the council has hinted it will start condemnation proceedings once the land is annexed. MacReady cannot oppose the annexation, since in the sale of a portion of his land to Doelger, he signed a contract agreeing to allow annexation of his land.

Boundaries Study The county boundaries commission studied the proposed annexation yesterday and despite heated protest on the part of many Coastiders, there was apparently little the boundaries commission can do to block the action.

City Attorney Frank Blum said that the county has no jurisdiction in the matter. He declared the boundaries group merely reviews the proposed annexation to determine legality of the boundaries.

Meeting last Wednesday, the Daly City planning commission unanimously approved annexation of the coastal property and forwarded their recommendation to the council.

Commenting Monday night on the widespread criticism of the proposed fill and cover dump operation from Coastside communities, Mayor Joseph Verducci said, "What are we going to do? It's a health menace. Do they want us to eat the garbage?"

The Daly City Scavenger Co. is currently disposing of garbage on the old Zanolle land east of Skyline boulevard, but they are operating on a 30-day revocable lease from Chris McKeon, developer.

Educate Opponents

Verducci suggested Monday that the council launch an educational program for people of the Coastside and the county board of supervisors.

"We should write these people letters and state our position."

"to get the jobs done."
He charged that some "behind-the-scenes" disgruntled politicians had gotten to the grand jury through letters.
Stallings said he had no argument with the grand jury's action.
"This was brought to their attention and they had to do it. They couldn't gloss it over," he stated.

Commenting on the letting of contracts without bids Stallings said, "In each case it was done either under emergency conditions or when other factors made it totally impossible to proceed otherwise."

Four of the supervisors defended Stallings' actions, and said they had concurred on the projects. Among comments made by the board were: Alvin Hatch—"Those things were not done without the board's knowledge." Edward R. McDonald—"These things were done with the full knowledge and approval of the board." William Werder—"There was no intent of any wrong-doing." Martin Poss—"We could not get bids for the Sanchez Adobe job. Estimates were extremely high. It seemed the logical thing to do."

Callan "To Find Out"
Supervisor Thomas Callan Sr. of Colma, who is the junior board member, said, "I don't know a thing about it, just what I read in the paper. This was all done before I came on the board."

He did say, however, that "I expect to find all about it Tuesday. I can't tell how I'll vote on the censure resolution but I'll never vote for any man who has broken the law, regardless of who he is." The board is scheduled to act on the resolution Tuesday.

He agreed that the board had to approve all expenditures made by Stallings and that therefore they were cognizant of his actions.

The grand jury queried Stallings for five hours Monday night before making the censure Tuesday. The vote was nine in favor of the reprimand, five against and two abstaining.

One grand jury member told this newspaper that "At least half a million dollars had been squandered by the county," but he did not name Stallings as directly responsible.

The jury member said, "If the board of supervisors doesn't do anything we will. We'll go to the superior court and ask for a ruling of misconduct." He also implied that the board of supervisors were partly to blame for the violations, since they approved all the expenditures. "Why did they approve them? Why did I want to know?" he asked.

Stalling, 39, has been the county manager for five years.

Trustee Asks Revision Of Westmoor High

wait," Whitney retorted.
Mrs. McGeein declared she had never before heard the proposal. Whitney continued his argument by stating that Westmoor was not ready until 1957.
"But we'll have the Sharp Park school by 1959," countered Trustee Lyl Ingersoll.

No Money's
"We won't even have the money to finish Westmoor," was Whitney's reply.

Mrs. McGeein again quizzed Whitney on why he had not before submitted his proposal.
"I've discussed it with others, maybe not with you," the trustee member answered. He cited as an example a conversation with Trustee Elio Fontana.

"What I want to know is why this has not been brought before the board instead of off in a corner," Mrs. McGeein stated.

When Whitney suggested that Mrs. McGeein discussed school matters with Trustee Ann Eason, it was flatly denied.

"Private Meeting"
"Changing the plans was discussed by the board at that private meeting," Whitney disclosed. He did not explain where or when the "private meeting" was held.

"I move we adjourn before these statements go down in the minutes and things like that," was Mrs. McGeein's next comment.

Her motion was overruled when Chairman Ingersoll agreed to allow Donald Miller, Laguna Salada school board trustee, to address the meeting. Miller stated that Whitney's statements were "worthy of consideration" and cited a high school in Sunnyvale as an example of low cost building.

Miller next presented four suggestions to the board:

Employ Manager
1. That the district employ a business manager. The Laguna Salada trustee, who told the board he was speaking as a "parent and taxpayer," and not as a "nosey trustee," explained that a business manager could take care of details now hampering the board's efficiency. He stated that the present meeting was an example since the board had taken little action on any of the agenda's items.

2. That an agenda be sent each member three or four days before each meeting. This suggestion was objected to by Mrs. McGeein, who said that she had never heard of this being done. This practice is executed, however, by both the Laguna Salada and Jefferson Elementary districts.

3. That a monthly budget be presented to the board.
Public Relations
4. That the high school district improve their public relations by asking civic groups to send representatives to meetings. "If you don't make friends now, your enemies will take over later," was Miller's comment.

Following Miller's presentation, the board reverted to the discussion on Westmoor school.

Hannah advised that "the board raise the tax rate as soon as Westmoor is completed in 1957." "We don't raise it, the people do," countered Whitney.

"Yes, but the people here are very good about providing adequate school facilities," Hannah answered.

Double Assessment
Next suggestion for raising funds was presented by Chairman Ingersoll, who stated that the board should "pressure" the assessor to double the assessment value on residences. Legal limit on homes is $40, while the assessment rate is generally set at about half that price, he said.

"That would kill any bond issue," objected Fontana.

"We wouldn't need a bond issue," Ingersoll countered.
The meeting ended after a last suggestion was made, this time by Fontana, who said that tax free industries in the county should be made to pay taxes.

In other action Monday night the board:

1. Authorized Ingersoll to attend the December 19 Daly City council meeting to discuss fire protection at Westmoor. The board also agreed that a letter should be directed to the city on the matter.
2. Appointed Whitney to a county school boundary changes committee.

3. Tabled until December 12 a suggestion by Hannah that the district sell all bonds at one time. The superintendent said he had been advised by the county treasurer that selling bonds at one time would save the district money by reducing advertising, printing and attorney costs.

4. Agreed on a maternity leave policy that pregnant women leave the district five months before the birth and return not sooner than five months after. At the suggestion of Mrs. McGeein, trustees agreed that the policy also should apply to non-certificated personnel.

Eleven Witnesses Heard In Hearing For Ousted Employee

Schlage Lock Co. employees held a dance there.
Employees who said they were "embarrassed" by the custodian's alleged disregard of the no-liquor rule were Bob Rodrigo and Bob Wilkins, recreation supervisors.

Marie Davidson, an employee of the lock firm who was a member of the dance committee, told the hearing that her committee had not known liquor was prohibited, but once informed, had complied with the ruling. She said Valentino did not tell the committee they could ignore the ruling against liquor.

Garbage Incident
Attempting to corroborate Mason's story of the garbage can incident were witnesses Joe Bloem, John Mowatt, and Lawrence Lucas, all city employees. They also testified that on numerous occasions Valentino had refused to help them with disposal of community center trash and that he had constantly bickered with them over whose responsibility certain jobs were.

Valentino's answer was that none of these employees was present at the time of the purported refusal to empty garbage, and that he had not bickered but merely protested at doing extra chores because his work schedule was already too heavy.

A subordinate charge that Valentino had frequently complained to other employees about his job was sworn to by another recreation worker, Richard Wazne, who said the custodian's continual complaining was "disturbing."

"Poor Public Relations"
Testifying to try and substantiate an accusation that Valentino hurt the city's public relations was Ella Streeter, Mason's landlady.

She declared that Valentino always "talked about Mason and said he was a poor boss."

Mrs. Streeter also said that Valentino had told several other citizens that Mason was such a poor employer that "no one would work for him."

Valentino countered by saying Mrs. Streeter had told him "Mason was not a good housekeeper."

The witness angrily denied ever having made such a statement.

Asked by civil service board Chairman Harry Bosbery whether he ever remembered saying anything derogatory about Mason, Valentino answered, "Yes, I did comment about him putting out his cigarettes on the floor of the community center."

Other witnesses testifying to back up Mason's charges were Bob Wilkins, Frank Ingersoll, Bob Rodrigo, all recreation supervisors, and another former recreation worker who asked that his name not be disclosed.

The civil service board, including Bosbery, Clarence Schmidt and John Deglantoni, is expected to rule on the employee's appeal late this week and forward their recommendation to the city council in time for Monday's meeting.

BURGLARS ENTER TWO DALY CITY SCHOOLS

Police suspect that burglaries at two local schools over the weekend were performed by the same culprits since entry in both cases was similar. Schools broken into were General Pershing and Crocker.

After forcing a metal screen off a window and then breaking a pane of glass to gain entry, culprits took a portable radio and several knives, together valued at $36, from the Pershing school. Found missing from Crocker school were one key and a package of soap.

Vandals Loot 3 Cars While Owners Attend Jeff Hi Board Meet

Three cars were looted Monday night while owners were at a meeting of the Jefferson Union High school board of trustees. Victims were Superintendent Stanford Hannah, Trustee Raymond Whitney and Mrs. Dorothy Paulson, Hannah's secretary.

All three autos were parked in the lot in front of the high school. Hannah, 118 Garden Lane, Colma, reported that the thieves escaped with all four of his hubcaps, together valued at $40. Whitney, 1051 Rio Vista, Pedro Valley, and Mrs. Paulson, 15 Portola drive, San Francisco, both said their glove compartments had been ransacked but that nothing had been taken.

Keep forest fires out of the news tomorrow by being careful today.

FIRE CAUSES $1500 DAMAGE TO DC HOME

An estimated $1500 damage resulted from a fire Saturday afternoon at the home of Ed Ciabattari, 242 Irvington street. Ciabattari told Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy that he had been working in the basement up until ten minutes before the fire was reported, at which time he left in the family car.

The blaze was reported by a passerby. Kennedy said that the fire apparently started when heat from a flue ignited plastic toys left nearby.
Damage was mostly in the basement. However, smoke and heat damage to the first floor was reported. Kennedy said that the house and contents are insured.

WE'RE NOT EATING OUR GARBAGE

"What'll we do about our garbage...eat it?"
Mayor Joseph Verducci's angered comment Monday about the clamorous Coastside protest of a fill and cover dump site was a capsule commentary on the problems facing Daly City and other northern San Mateo county communities.

Disposal of refuse is not a new problem. The county, city and the scavengers have labored in vain for several thousand collective hours in the past two years on the quandry of where to dump the thousands of tons of waste that accumulate annually from the simple process of a community living.

Finally, Daly City stopped casting about and took some decisive action on the problem of garbage disposal.

The city announced plans to develop an 84-acre fill and cover dump operation on the barren slopes of San Mateo county's coast line. The property is worthless for any other use other than that proposed by the city.

Whatever aesthetic charms the area may have will not be diluted by the fill and cover operation, but rather will be enhanced. Fill and cover is a system whereby the garbage is spread over a large area at depths generally not more than 12 inches. Soil, usually in depths of at least twice that of the garbage, is then spread over the waste. There is no smoke because there is no burning and there is no smell, not if the dump is under constant city surveillance.

Under the council's proposal, the city would operate the dump and would levy rigid fines on any violation of the fill and cover standards set up.

We can understand the vociferous protest of the Coastside residents. Their feelings are prompted by emotions and not by factual information on what constitutes a fill and cover operation.

But we are puzzled by the actions of the county planning director, who one month ago charged northern San Mateo county communities with "dragging their feet" on the garbage disposal problem, and last week berated Daly City for attempting to gobble up land which he said was on a priority list for a state park.

Daly City does not want to "eat its garbage." A firm and sound plan to take care of it for more than 50 years has been devised and is being brought to reality.

The protests from the Coastside residents should be met with an educational campaign, while the ominous rumblings from the county officials should be discounted as just so much noise.

Two Daly City GIs In Army-Air Force Giant Maneuvers

FORT POLK, LA. — Army Pvt. Alan R. Drago, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Drago, 619 F street, Colma, and Pfc. Delmas J. Hayes, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee D. Hayes, 53 Shakespeare, Daly City, are participating in the largest joint Army-Air Force maneuver since World War II, Exercise Sage Brush, in Louisiana.

Some 110,000 Army troops are testing the latest concepts of atomic, bacteriological, chemical and electronic warfare.

Private Drago's unit, Battery A of the 1st Armored Division's 68th Field Artillery Battalion, will be regularly stationed at Fort Polk, La., after the maneuver ends Dec. 15, as will Hayes unit, Company C, 1st Armored Division's 81st Reconnaissance Battalion.

Drago entered the Army in March 1955 and completed basic training at Fort Ord, Calif., while Hayes enlisted in 1954 and trained at the same base.

TWO DALY CITY WOMEN FAIL AT SUICIDE TRIES

Suicide attempts were made by two Daly City women this week, according to local police. Neither one of the pair were successful.

First report was made Sunday at 10 p.m. when police received a call from Sanford's Drive In. Upon responding, officers found Mrs. Barbara Wilson, 48, 136 Gambetta street, in a semi-conscious state seated at the counter.

Mrs. Wilson told police that she had taken about 30 phenobarbital pills and 25 other tablets for good measure. She said that she was despondent because her husband was ill in St. Joseph's hospital.

Officers rushed Mrs. Wilson to Junipero Serra hospital, and she was later transferred to Community hospital.

Second attempt was made by Mrs. Claudia Amoroso, 28, of 50 Station avenue on Monday at 9:53 p.m. Police were called to the residence by a doctor who said the near-victim had phoned him.

Police said they found Mrs. Amoroso in the living room with her husband, Peter. They reported that she had swallowed a bottle of second tablets.

She also was rushed to Junipero Serra hospital and later transferred to Community hospital.

Legion Unit 535 Devotes Month To Rehabilitation

Editor's note: This is the second in a series of articles on local women's organizations. THE RECORD will feature each women's club listed in our files in alphabetical order.

American Legion auxiliary, Westlake Unit No. 535, will devote this month, December, to rehabilitation. Each month of the year is set aside for a special project to which the 36 members of the auxiliary give their time and effort.

The following is a rundown on the year's projects: January, national security and legislation; February, Americanism; March, community service; April, child welfare; May, poppy sales; June, juniors; July, reports and election; August, convention; September, music; October, education and unit activities; and November, membership.

Women in the Westlake unit meet the third Tuesday of each month to plan for these monthly projects. At present, meetings are held in members' homes, although it is hoped that a designated meeting place will be found in the near future.

Nearly Two Years

A comparative newcomer in the list of local organizations, the auxiliary was organized on January 26, 1954. Enrollment has risen from 16 members and 6 junior members to its present membership of 26 members and 10 juniors. Mrs. Rose Agnello is credited as having effected the increase in membership.

All wives, mothers, sisters and daughters by birth of veterans who served in World War I, World War II or in the Korean conflict as of the following dates are eligible to join the auxiliary: April 6, 1917 through November 11, 1918; December 7, 1941 through September 2, 1945; and June 25, 1950 through July 27, 1953.

Emphasize Two

The Westlake auxiliary places emphasis on rehabilitation of disabled veterans and child welfare, funds for which are derived from the sale of poppies. Child welfare includes the sponsoring of local boy and girl scout troops.

Overall purpose of the Westlake unit and all units, according to Publicity Chairman Lamona Lumpkin, is to "maintain law and order, uphold and defend the constitution of the United States of America, and foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism."

Senior members of the group are Mesdames: Rose Agnello (second vice president), Betty Anderson, Gladys Asaro (sergeant-at-arms), Margaret Bigon, Virginia Boerio, Toni Cancilla (secretary, executive board), Ann Carlson, Ronnie Carrillo, Alice Corrie (president), Roberta Corrie (historian), Irene Davidson.

Roberta Drye, Anne Falconi, Betty Frasch (marshall), Dorothy Goebel (treasurer, executive board), Charlotte Goldhirsh, Mary Holman (chaplain), Helen Lovitz, Marian Kraling (first vice president), Terry Lester, Virginia Letourneau, Lamona Lumpkin, Laverne Palmieri, Shirley Ray, Patricia Underwood and Helen Weyrens.

Junior members are: Sherry Asaro, Michele Bizon, Karen Marie Carrillo, Kristine Carrillo, Mariane Corrie, Clare Goebel, Deborah Holman, Beverly Kraling, Patricia Lumpkin and Barbara Ray.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

M-G-M has sprung "The Tender Trap" at Loew's Warfield. Filmed in Eastman Color and baited with such mouth watering goodies as Debbie Reynolds and Celeste Holm, "Trap" provides the right amount of frothy entertainment needed to top off a heavy holiday meal.

It is the story of a theatrical agent (Sinatra) who lives a sybaritic existence in his luxurious New York apartment, through which troop assorted lovelies eager to walk his dog, supply him with the finest cheeses or what have you. Up to now he has been able to avoid love, the tender trap. David Wayne, an old school chum taking a brief respite from his three children's dental problems, moves in with Sinatra, and his initial reaction to the latter's way of life is that of a true believer who finds himself in the Mohammedan heaven.

Superior Strategy

Among the contenders for Sinatra's unwilling hand is Celeste Holm who seems to have the inside track until Debbie comes along. Debbie is a serious minded little thing with a complete blueprint for life and marriage. There is only one thing lacking, a bridegroom. At one point it looks as though there'll be a double wedding, with Sinatra playing the male lead in both productions, but superior strategy wins in the end and Sinatra falls into Debbie's trap.

During his vacation from dental and wall-to-wall carpeting problems, Wayne of course hasn't been idle but has whiled away many a happy hour with Celeste. In the beginning he merely means to console her for Sinatra's indifference, but in a weak moment finds himself contemplating a more permanent relationship. This never gets beyond the contemplation stage and in the end he goes home and Celeste goes on to, well, you'll have to find that out for yourself.

Smooth Performer

The light touch is retained throughout the film, with the most highly concentrated laughs found in a "morning after" scene. There is Wayne, nursing a monumental hangover. In his pathetic search for a clean glass he finds just about everything else: dozens of empty bottles, a misplaced glass asleep under the sofa and, finally, one clean shot glass. From this he drinks his tomato juice.

Sinatra shows a deft hand for comedy and doesn't sing too often (we are not among the admirers of his crooning). David Wayne is a very smooth performer, with an extensive stock of expressions into which he dips as the need arises. Debbie is the weak member of the quartet. We can't imagine anyone except a teen-age male becoming very excited over her. Celeste Holm is her usual off-hand wisecracking self, and a very welcome relief from the marshmallowy Debbie.

PERSONALITY SKETCH... "As I grow older," began our subject of this week's interview. "Mature in years," suggests his wife. "All right more mature in years," he continued. "I have less and less and less desire to go to Hollywood. I like San Francisco." So spoke another outstanding local television personality and a resident of Parkmead — our interview for this week — Bob Tutt.

A staff announcer at KPXX since 1953, Bob is commercial announcer on many well-known programs. One of his regular programs is "Studio K" seen every Monday evening over KPXX at 10:30 p.m.

Born in Oakland, Bob attended school in Sacramento and graduated from junior college there with a degree in journalism. His background includes experience in both radio and television. During his college years he began working at the local radio station, and following graduation he joined the staff of KROY in Sacramento. Wanting to live in the bay area he became a member of Radio Station KSFO's staff prior to joining the Navy as a radio operator. During the war he was stationed at various bases throughout the United States and later on in the Hawaiian Islands. Following Navy service he went back to Sacramento as staff announcer on KXOA, but again the bay area won out, and he returned to KSFO in 1949. Three years later he became the first staff announcer with KPXX.

On Badge 714

Other programs Bob has appeared on include "Badge 714" (KPXX) and as a free lance announcer he is on "Paris Precinct" which is telecast on Monday evenings at 8:30 p.m. over KOVR.

Bob met his wife, Esther, in Sacramento, and questioned about the circumstances, he admitted that their meeting was somewhat out of the ordinary. While he worked in Sacramento he was master of ceremonies on an amateur program at a local theater called "Stars of Tomorrow." He auditioned a trio of girls for the program and Esther was a member of the group. That was the beginning of their romance, and later on they were married.

The Tutts have lived in Parkmead for six years, and are enthusiastic residents. They have two sons, Philip, nine and Jimmy five. The young couple are active in their community affairs and both participate in the parent-faculty organization of the campus school.

Questioned about hobbies, Bob said he didn't have time for too many, but he did enjoy golf.

We are glad that the Tutts are enthusiastic residents and plan to remain in San Francisco. Too many of the talented radio and television personalities leave the bay area. San Francisco, one of the really glamorous cities of the world should develop more local programs so these people would remain.

Kiddies Corner

With the strains of a gay litting tune... and a merry "Hi, boys and girls!" Happy Holly returned to television last week and we know Holly in Santa's Workshop... (KRON-TV, Tuesdays and Thursdays, 5:30 p.m.) has long been a favorite of the tricycle set. We particularly enjoy the part of the program where the little elf is calling to Santa Claus. As he calls out, we are carried by the television screen past the brides... over Coast tower... the ocean and then snow capped peaks to the North Pole... and there is Santa. He talks to the children, shows them new toys and gives helpful suggestions such as advising the children to practice their piano and share their toys. Altogether it is a thoroughly delightful program for the little tots!

Local People In TV

KOED's membership coordinator, Elizabeth Heller, met last week with Mrs. Robert Buchanan, chairman, and Mrs. Jos. Elliott, vice-chairman, of the Northern San Mateo County Viewers Council, and discussed plans for the local organization. Mrs. Fred Williams, 484 C street, has been appointed community chairman of the Colma-Sterling Park area.

More children from our area visited Buckskin Rob in his backyard last week. The children who appeared on the program (KOED, Thursdays, 5:30 p.m.) included Dale and Dean Taylor, Pamela and Billy Flagleton, John Murphy, Gary and Kenneth Stettler, and Jean and Vincenta Yates.

MAILING HINTS FOR CHRISTMAS OFFERED BY PO

Suggestions for mailers of Christmas cards were outlined today by Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy of Daly City.

"By following the suggestions below, mailers will receive better service," Murphy stated.

1. The best time to avoid crowds at stamp windows in post offices is before 10 a.m. and between 1:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

2. Buy sufficient stamps when purchasing, to prevent another wait in line.

3. Both return address and address of recipient should be plainly written.

4. Affix stamps firmly in upper right hand corner.

5. Christmas cards addressed to out-of-town points should be mailed not later than December 15, 1955—those for local delivery should be mailed by December 17, 1955.

6. To speed delivery, sort your cards and tie them in two separate bundles, with addresses facing one way. Labels should then be attached, indicating "all for local delivery" and "all for out of town delivery."

7. Christmas cards bearing a 3 cent stamp are first class mail. They are sorted and delivered first.

8. Only Christmas cards carrying a 3 cent or 6 cent airmail stamp may include a personal message.

Volunteers Will Begin Crusade Fund Raising Today

United Crusade volunteers are expected to begin ringing doorbells today in order to collect funds for the local drive now in progress, according to Mrs. Martin Orloff, publicity chairman.

Despite the fact that the campaign is nearly completed in the remainder of the bay area, it is just beginning here, she explained. Women named to district chairmanship posts are Mesdames Paul Selmi, Warren Voeke, John Drye, Marie Sorensen, Irwin Cohen, H. Friedman and Edward Olsen.

Persons who are not at home when a volunteer stops by are asked to call one of the above women who will take donations.

Local agencies supported in large measure by the Crusade include the boy scouts, girl scouts and the Indian Guides of the YMCA. In all, 288 community services derive benefit from the United Crusade.

Cops Charge DC Man With Buying Liquor For Two Juveniles

Henry Mack, 38, address listed as "anywhere," was arrested Saturday and charged with purchasing wine for two juveniles. Mack has a long list of arrests in this city.

He was spotted in the company of two boys at 9:45 p.m. at Mission and Market streets by Officer Gerald Schaeffer, who reported that he watched Mack enter a local market and return with a package which he handed the two youths.

The officer radioed Sergeant August Benassini to pick up the two boys and Schaeffer apprehended Mack.

In the paper bag were found two bottles of wine, which the youths admitted had been purchased for them by Mack in return for 50 cents.

DC BOY, 14, INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY CAR ON MISSION STREET

A 14-year-old boy was treated for minor injuries at Junipero Serra hospital Friday after he was struck down by a car driven by a Daly City woman on Mission street.

Injured was Thomas Ricca, 979 Hillside boulevard, while driver of the car was Mrs. Lois V. Geibig, a 51-year-old housewife of 17 Garwood drive.

The accident occurred when Ricca, who was in the crosswalk at Knowles avenue, was hit by Mrs. Geibig's car, which was going south in the center lane, police said.

No citations were issued at the time of the accident.

Little SUSAN BURDICK of Frankfort street, who recently broke her collar bone has finally parted with her cast after four weeks. She is completely well, but last report from her Mom was that Susy is up to her old tricks again. Now let's be careful, Susy, I hear that you're keeping Mom pretty busy.

Belated birthday wishes to two more brothers JOSEPH and DAVID BALLENTINI, who celebrated birthdays recently. Many relatives dropped by to help them celebrate the happy day.

"Pirate Party" was the theme of TIMOTHY CAIN's ninth birthday party. Twelve guests arrived bringing many treasures for MASTER TIM. The biggest surprise was a bike from his folks.

To make their tenth anniversary really memorable, all the neighbors on Paul street got together and surprised CLARA and LOU DOVE with a wonderful block party. About 40 people attended, and I hear that a good time was had by all.

Another resident of Paul street also did some celebrating. MICHELE CHAPOT huffed and puffed until she blew out three candles on her birthday cake.

The DAVIDSON HOUSEHOLD on Abbot has been another house that has had lots of hustle and bustle these days. Mom and Dad (STEVIE and HARRY) celebrated birthdays just days apart from one another. On November 20 these folks celebrated their eighth anniversary. Thanks-giving Day they had dinner for about 30 people (relatives). On December 4 their youngest son, RANDY SCOTT, will be Christened at the Immaculate Conception church, with his Aunt and Uncle, the ROY CAMILLOS, as his Godparents.

AIRMAN 3rd TED GIFFORD of Tallwood and his buddy, another Airman 3rd, RAY BROWN of PARMA, have been home on a ten-day furlough. They have just completed their basic training, and after their furlough the boys will each go different ways. Ted will report to an air force base in Texas, and Ray will head for Scott Air Force base in Illinois.

Another belated birthday wish goes to JACK CALVIN, who just celebrated his nineteenth birthday. Sorry to be so late with this wish Jack.

Sounds like a lot of fun was had by Mrs. Leewke's seventh grade class the other evening. TOMMY PARRISH of Atlanta invited the group over to his home for an evening of dancing.

BROWNIE TROOP 210 enjoyed Cinerama very much. Many mothers and dads went along with their BROWNIE daughters. About 29 heads were counted.

Many happy returns to MISS SANDRA LEAVITT of Hillside boulevard, who can now claim that she is a teenager.

What's this I hear about AL LORETTA GALLAGOS of ESTRADA'S KITCHEN celebrating an anniversary (which one they celebrated my spy forgot to say). Also belated birthday wishes to their daughter MARGARETE who had her fourth birthday.

Congratulations to the ANDREW CASTLES of Abbot avenue who recently celebrated their fourth anniversary. They were seen enjoying dinner at one of the local restaurants with their two children.

Another baby who was christened recently was PHILLIP BERLENGHI JR. of School street. Godparents were Pat McCreary and Jerome Stack. After the christening of St. Anthony's church the immediate family attended a dinner party at the Berleghi home.

Another late birthday wish goes to MASTER BILLY TELAVERA of Bellevue street who with a group of his fellow playmates celebrated his fourth birthday.

Our sick list this week has claimed the following people: Betty Ann McNeely of Abbot has been a very sick little girl and has been bedded down with the flu. Hear that JUDY SILVESTRI of Werner street has also been sick. A virus infection kept this little miss out of school for over a week. Little JERRY MAHOOD of Moltke is having ear ache troubles these days and has been a sick little guy. News from Sterling Park tells us that DELORES ROACH is feeling lots better after a severe sinus attack.

Shame on you, MRS. CARMEL- LA ATTILIO of Peoria street, for not telling me you were about to celebrate your birthday. But many happy returns anyway.

Things have been buzzing at MELVIN OLSEN's home on Miriam street. Their daughter Caroline (Mrs. Richard Terrell) presented them with their very first grandchild (a girl). So, our hearty congratulations, folks.

The NORTH family on Willis also celebrated birthdays last week. MOM (RUTH) and Daughter NORMA both shared the same cake. Son Donald sent his favorite (MOM) a dozen beautiful roses.

Seems that in the last few months little TOMMY KAHLE of Second avenue has been having a rough time of it. He is now suffering from electrical burns which he suffered when he tried to separate a lamp from an extension cord with his mouth. He has severe burns on his lower lip which will eventually need plastic surgery. MOM, too, has been having a time of it. She recently fell and broke her nose, and is now being treated for an infected leg. Both patients report to the doctors every day for treatment.

Two more last minute birthday wishes before I say adieu for this week. Happy birthday to JILL TAYLOR of Price street who had a lovely party to celebrate her sixth birthday. Many happy returns to ALLEN de SOUCY of Thiers street who also added another year.

Remember to call PL 5-5419 with all your news.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

Bea and Tom Gantert are back home on Louvaine but a fair share of Hawaii came back with them, including some 180 colored pictures, gifts for all the family, and a Polynesian attitude toward life which is hard to shake off! With Martha and Cec Pinney, they spent a marvelous month in Waikiki, staying in their own apartment and going to museums, restaurants, gift shops, all the big hotels, and spending hours a day on the beach. They tried surfboard riding and sailed in a large outrigger canoe. They were there for the last day of Aloha Week, when parades and royal costumes and feasts take up everybody's time, and they even had a couple of the muggy days followed by drenching rains which islanders call kona weather.

Then there was the morning that they went to "Breakfast in Waikiki," a local radio program from one of the big hotels, and Bea won a cultured pearl! Of course Tom couldn't let her get away with that, so just before they left, they went to the same program and sat at the same table, and Tom won a beautiful ukelele! Altogether, it was a wonderful trip, and Bea says she has a completely itemized expense sheet, so that any parents who wish can come over, look at it, and start figuring towards a trip of their own! She also says it's the perfect thing for parents with large families—and faithful grandmas who will come and run the house while said parents are off kicking up their heels in a cloud of multi-colored sunshine and fragrant leis! Faithful grandma in this case was Bea's mother, Mrs. Catherine Heckman, who came out from Minneapolis a month ahead of the departure date in order to get used to taking care of six children!

Thanksgiving Fete

Like the Ganterts and Pinneys, who got home just in time, everyone in the Villages had family Thanksgiving, either here at home, or at a friend's or relatives' home, and everybody we talked to had a most wonderful day, which is as it should be. Having strengthened themselves with leftover turkey and/or ham for a week, all good housewives and mothers are now starting the annual Christmas shopping campaign, and Santa Claus is going to be very busy answering the needs of Village small ones alone, if the requests heard around our house are any example!

Joe and Lorraine Monks on MacArthur had a very special guest for Thanksgiving dinner—new daughter Christine Joanne, who joined Raymond, Carolyn and Steven in a happy day. She was 8 lbs., 4 oz. at birth, and will probably have gained a bit just from sniffing the fragrance from the oven while she drank her milk!

Washington street's Mischak family had something new to celebrate, too—a nice shiny red and white Pontiac Catalina, which just matches their red and white house!

The Saturday before Thanksgiving was full of birthday cheer. Anita Duste turned 8, and Robbie Parkinson turned 4, and each had a party to end all parties. Anita had a luncheon and a trip to the Serra Theatre for her guests, which included Stephanie Mischak, Susan Subke, Peggy Jane Danforth, Cynthia Ann Travinsky, Carol Nyburg, Lynn Parkinson, Claudia Guz, Candace Dalzelle and Marcella Harvey. Robbie had a Mickey Mouse party at home, with Marc Duste, Cynde Phillips, Christine Folsom, Cathy Milani and Craig Dalzelle busy playing games and eating and watching him open presents and eating. . . .

Youngest Diana

Youngest Diana we've heard of around town is 7 year old Patsy Phillips, whose father, Larry, took her pheasant hunting for a couple of days over the weekend. They went to Knight's Landing and left mother Molly home on MacArthur to touch up the kitchen with a paintbrush! The Phillips home is in rather a feathery state, since Molly and Larry have been duck and goose hunting quite a bit since the season opened, and the freezer is full. And as if all those feathered friends weren't enough, Molly cooked a 23 lb. turkey for Thanksgiving!

Sorry to report that there have been some sick and wounded lately. Young Gordon Feist took a tumble on cement which meant stitches on the head, and Jay and Clark Elliot had tonsillitis together. The flu bug visited Betty and young Harold and Wanda Chivere, and Dorothy Croley. Ira McKee had mumps, and some of our young ones didn't feel so hot for a while. Let's hope that the Christmas gayety and glow will keep everyone well.

Happy birthdays, (some rather late, we fear!) are due this month to Billie Buchanan and son Jimmy, and to fathers Larry Green and Ray Meade. Herewith best, if belated, wishes!

After postponing the first one planned because of chicken pox, Nancy Swoverland came through in fine style with a 5th birthday party, and invited Pam Eagleton, Patty and Shelley Alba, Christine and Nancy Mitchell, Janice Brugge, Marilyn and Karen Mattson, Perky Gillespie, Carla Larson, and Brian, Dennis and Alex Mattson. Everything was just fine, except that the men arrived to prepare the outside walls of the Swoverlands' new room for stuccoing, and the happy birthdays were sung to the rhythm of much heavy hammering. Mother Dorothy and 87th street are recovering nicely!

Stag Party
Believing in the early bird theory, young Bryce Stocklagger scheduled his birthday party for 9:30 a.m., when guests met at his house on Ellis street and took off for the 10 a.m. children's show at the Seavue Theatre. After cheering the "Black Stallion" on through thick and thin, they all came back for lunch. The strictly stag party included Johnny Skillman, Mike and Bobby Kolb, Jack and Donny Mitchell, Bobby Otson and Bryce's cousin, Steven McLaughlin.

Peg Elliot up on Bradley has been having a busy time of it. As co-chairman of the northern peninsula group of the KQED Viewers Council, she and Bill Buchanan

WIREN-REMMEL RITES AT ST. ANDREW CHURCH

A recent ceremony at St. Andrew's Lutheran church united in marriage Miss Anneli Marketta Wiren and Leevi O. Remmel. Pastor John R. Pearson officiated at the rites.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arva Wiren of 154 Peoria street, is a graduate of Mission High school. She attended elementary school in Finland and is now employed with Bullock and Jones company.

Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Remmel of San Francisco, received his education in Estonia and Sweden. He is now serving with the United States army.

The new Mrs. Remmel's wedding gown was fashioned of white lace and satin. It was floor-length and featured a wide waist band of satin, while the lace bodice was styled with a low neck.

The bride carried a bouquet of two orchids and lilies of the valley. Her waist length veil was held by a rhinestone crown.

Miss Lisa Fellermeier served as maid of honor, and bridesmaid was Miss Silla Remmel. They wore pink and lilac ballerina dresses with small crowns and short veils. Best man was Heina Raagul and usher was Gustav Suga. Flower Girl duties were taken by Gail Greengrass, and Steven Nyland was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wiren wore a dark blue knit dress. The groom's mother also wore a knit dress, but of a light blue hue.

A reception at Woodmen hall followed the ceremonies. For her leave-taking to a honeymoon in Carmel, the bride wore a blue tweed suit with white and black accessories.

The couple are now making their home in Daly City.

MISS DE BERNARDI WEDS ED GALLAGHER

Miss Eileen Catherine DeBernardi became the bride of Edwin William Gallagher at recent rites at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church. The young couple will make their home in Daly City following a honeymoon in Carmel.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Thomas J. Blanco and Mr. Michael J. DeBernardi, who escorted his daughter up the aisle. She is a graduate of Jefferson Union High school where she served as vice president of the student body. She is now employed at Leslie's dress shop.

Her husband, also a graduate of Jefferson Union High school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Gallagher. The benedict is now a member of the United States Air Force electronics school.

For her wedding, the new Mrs. Gallagher wore a formal length, princess-style white gown. It was fashioned with a lace bodice decorated with rainbow sequins and had fingertip length sleeves. A lace apron covered a full tulle skirt.

Her ballerina length veil was held by a tiara of pearls and rhinestones, and her flower bouquet was fashioned of white stephanotis, carnations, camellias, all surround-attended the meeting of the governing board of said council at the Colonial recently. Then there were the boys to take care of through tonsillitis, and Thanksgiving dinner to get ready and a few other things. Right in the midst thereof, a friend whom Peg hadn't seen for 10 years stopped by on her way to Hawaii, and she and Peg had a fine time catching up on the do-you-remember and what-ever-became-ofs. Bets Jones and Peg had served in the same Red Cross unit in Esslingen, Germany, near Stuttgart, and Bets' husband is an Army major with Hawaii as his next post. With two Jones children and three Elliot children meeting each other for the first time, things were very busy indeed!

We saw quite a procession of small party-dressed young ladies going by our house the other day, and learned that they were en route to Debbie Lee's 7th birthday party down on Village Lane. Susie Helmer, Ley Elliot, Kathy Barrett, Mary Crowley, Annette White, Ginny Jones, Karen Gaymon, Debbie Beckerman, Sharon Scovel and Kathy Wilson were the guests who partied in a Christmasy atmosphere, and played pin-the-beard-on-Santa Claus.

St. Martin's Yule Bazaar Set For Today

Local children are taking great interest in Christmas Tree Lane, the bazaar to be held by St. Martin's Mission, Episcopal, women's auxiliary this Friday from 1 to 9 p.m. in the vicarage basement, 94 Palmdale avenue. Purpose of the affair is to raise a church building fund, according to Mrs. Hilda G. Buril, publicity chairman.

About 25 children have been working Saturdays at the home of Mrs. H. P. Craner, Westlake, and Mrs. L. S. Buel, Manor Village, to produce handmade gifts for game prizes.

In addition to lending their artistic talents in giftmaking, the children are planning to assist the women in their booths and distribute handbills to advertise the event.

Especially attractive to young fry will be gay balloon animals, live rabbits and goldfish, stuffed toys, doll clothes, and refreshments on sale, as well as bean-bag, fish-pond, grab-bag, and dart games to play. A large selection of inexpensive gifts and decorations will be available for those planning their Christmas shopping early.

Some drivers are so busy criticizing the driving technique of "the other guy" that they have no time to examine their own.

You've seen the type, points out the National Automobile Club. Whenever they drive down the street or highway, they spend most of their time criticizing "the other guy." They criticize the way he makes his hand signals, the way he weaves from lane to lane. They criticize the way he starts, the way he stops, and the speed at which he cruises. And when he gets in an accident they feel that that was to be expected because accidents always happen to "the other guy."

But accidents don't always happen to "the other guy." Sometimes they happen to you. And poor driving technique is not always the failing of "the other guy." Sometimes it is the failing of you. Have you examined your driving lately? Remember, to those other drivers you are "the other guy."

JEFF'S HONEYWELL NAMED PLAYER OF YEAR

Honeywell Bottled As SSF Warriors Win Traditional; Jeff Finishes 2nd In PAL

South San Francisco put the brakes on Jim Honeywell in the Thanksgiving day football traditional last week and came up with a 20-13 victory over the Jefferson eleven to close out the 1953 PAL season.

Honeywell was held to one of his lowest totals rushing, 36 yards, and had two passes intercepted to set up warrior touchdowns.

The loss gave Jefferson a season record of six wins, two losses, and left them in a tie for second with the Warriors. Lincoln climaxed their undefeated year with a 24-7 win over San Jose to claim the undisputed championship.

Honeywell was at his usual brilliancy through the air, completing seven for 24 for 109 yards gained, despite the interceptions.

Cloutier The Target
His target most of the day was Lanky End Tom Cloutier, one of the league's top receivers. Cloutier took in three for 63 yards.

In the first period the Warriors' polished defense held Honeywell to a minus six yards on two carries. The Jefferson quarterback could only manage seven yards on the plus side in the second period.

The Warriors big break came in the third quarter, after the teams had returned to the field tied, 7-7. Honeywell fired at end Al Arneson, but Dean Prince stole it out of Arneson's fingers on the SSF 35 and hit it back to the Jeff 30.

In five plays the South City clan moved to the 12, from where Prince scored around left end. Ted Amirkhan blocked Anderson's pass for the PAT, and the Warriors held the advantage, 13-7.

Another Theft
Later in the period, another interception of a Honeywell pass set up a Warrior score. Jim Vaughn snared the QB's aerial on the 50-yard-line and ran to the Jeff 38. Vaughn carried four times, moving it to the Jeff 13. From here Prince moved to the five, and Don Anderson carried it over, to clinch SSF's fourth victory in five tries over the Indians.

The Daly City club rallied for a score late in the final period on a quick 73-yard march that took eight plays and ended just before the final gun.

Honeywell first hit Cloutier for 38 yards as the agile end made an unbelievable catch. The Jefferson ace then passed to Harold Funkhouser for 20 yards, advancing the ball to the SSF 15.

Honeywell then shot for nine yards himself and passed to Cloutier again for the score.

March 80 Yards
The Indians marched 80 yards for their initial score in the first half, but most of the credit went to Cloutier, who made one of his typically spectacular catches on a 19-yard throw from Honeywell.

A 15-yard pass interference penalty and strong running of Tex Prentice helped account for the tally. It took Honeywell two tries to go over from two yards out.

The statistics book showed the Warriors with net yards of 233, against 202 for the Indians. The local team had 93 yards on the ground, 109 in the air.

Honeywell's 36 yards gained barely edged out Prentice, who bolted for 34 while Ron O'Rourke picked up 17. Jerry Howard, 6. Cloutier's 63 yards gained on pass receiving led the Indians. He was followed by Funkhouser, 20, Amirkhan, 13, Lee Casentini, 7, and O'Rourke, 6.

Despite the loss, it was a good season for Coach Joe McGrath, whose team was tabbed as one step away from the cellar in pre-season prognostications.

The McGrathmen were in the running for the championship right up to the final contest. Their only other loss in league play was a 25-20 defeat by San Mateo in an early season game when the Indians were crippled by injuries. "The Jeffs lost a practice game to Carlmont, 22-7, for an overall season mark of 6-3.

Honeywell, Prentice Pace 14-0 Senior Win Over Junior Gridders

Jim Honeywell's 80-yard kickoff run back and Tex Prentice 20 yard ramble gave Jefferson High school senior football team a 14-0 win over the juniors Tuesday.

It was a close battle throughout the first two periods, but Honeywell took the kickoff in the second half and rammed it back 80 yards to break the impasse.

In the fourth quarter Prentice took the ball from 20 yards out and squirmed all the way over.

Franzoia, Miller On All-PAL Cage Teams

Jefferson High school landed one player each on the 1953 All-PAL 10s and 20s basketball teams announced this week.

Selected to the mythical first five of the 20s was Indian guard LeRoy Franzoia.

Guard Don Miller won a place on the starting 10st first club.

Andy Ruelas, guard, was selected to the second string of the 20s club, while Center Wayne Lewis and Guard Ross Holmgren of the 10s won a second string post in their division.

Honorable mention went to Jefferson's Wayne Anderson in the 20s and Steve Opperman in the 10s.

Both Opperman and Holmgren are only freshmen.

HOW DO I HOOK?

Years ago the teachings were that once you had learned to hook the ball your swing was supposedly correct. This is still true to a certain degree. A good swing is one where you swing from inside out, rolling your hands at the right instant to create a hook spin on the ball. There are many variations of the hook though, and for the most part all of them are more dangerous than a slight fade. By that I mean they are harder to control. The only type of hook that would be desirable would be the tail hook. That is a very gentle drop to the left at the very end of the flight of the ball. This takes good timing and good hand action.

THE FAULT:
Usually there is not enough right hand action when you find yourself slicing the ball. By that I mean your left hand takes charge in the swing and will pull the club-head inside the ball causing you to cut across and create a slice spin. This along with turning your left side away from the ball too quickly on the down swing will result in a hook.

THE CORRECTION:
Hit out at the ball with your right hand. Let your left hand and arm guide you to the ball, then smack the ball with your right hand at the bottom of your swing. Many good players will drop their right foot back from the line of flight a little so as to give them a more definite swingout at the ball. This helps to keep their left side from turning too quickly, and so preventing them from cutting across the ball.

REMEMBER:
Keep your head behind the ball slightly at impact. Keep your right arm in close to your body on the down swing. Practice pulling down with your left arm and hitting out at the ball with your right hand. Swing easily and roll your right hand over as you strike the ball.

Forfeit Victory Over SSF Clinches Frosh-Soph Title For Jeff--It's First Time

The Peninsula Athletic league frosh-soph football crown rests for the first time today on the "head" of the Jefferson High school Indian.

Somewhat anti-climactically, Coach Tony Giammona's yearlings finished out the season last Wednesday with a forfeit win over rival South San Francisco, the Daly City field being three inches deep in water and too aquatic for the Warriors pre-Thanksgiving day liking.

The forfeit win gave the Indians a season record of eight wins, one tie, and the undisputed championship, first one in the school's history in the frosh-soph division of the PAL.

Winding up in a close second was Palo Alto, with eight wins, one loss, or one point behind in the mathematical tally.

In past years Jefferson has not even come close in the frosh-soph race, and their best effort ever was in 1950, when they wound up second with an overall season record of 9-2.

Giammona's young charges will be honored Monday night at a spaghetti feed for their sterling efforts. They can't win any further gridiron honors, since the PAL does not select an All-Frosh-Soph team.

PLAYER OF THE YEAR was Jefferson High school's quarterback Jim Honeywell, who ran and passed for nearly 1300 yards against league opposition and engineered the local high school to second place in the PAL.

Towering Jeff Basketball Team In Debut Tuesday

With a starting team that averages 6' 2" inches in height, Coach Mike Orlich will send his Jefferson High school varsity cagers in to their first game of the season Tuesday in a practice tilt at Tamalpais.

Besides his starting club, which boasts collectively some 10 years of experience on the courts, Orlich has waiting in reserve a 6' 7" youngster by the name of Terry Ferris "who may come through." Another player who may break in to the starting club is Bob Comstock, a six-foot transfer from St. Ignace who works at the forward slot.

The Jeff tentative starting line-up for next Tuesday includes: Ray Schultz, 6' 4", center; Larry Pottinger, 6' 3", Darrel Hutchinson, 6', forwards; Jim Honeywell, 6' 1", and Bill Curtis, 6' 1", or Ray Vuillemainroy, 6', at guards.

Another tall man who may see a lot of action is all-league end Tom Cloutier, 6' 3", who just reported to Orlich Wednesday.

What makes Orlich's rotund face shine is the fact that his club will not be "stepped on" any more at the backboards by tall offensive outfits. "Last year they shot all day over us when our team average was about 5' 9", recalled Orlich. "We'll be rough defensively this time."

Asked if this year's club couldn't develop into one of the greatest aggregations ever, Orlich said, "Could be, but I remember in 1952 we had the potentialities, but lost five games by one point."

Coining a take-off on Michigan's football strategy, Orlich says he will employ a "Jefferson multiple offensive" this year.

The Indians best sharpshooters are Hutchinson, Vuillemainroy and Pottinger, all of whom saw lots of action last year.

Coach Tony Giammona's 30s cage crew will also make their debut against Tamalpais Tuesday. Giammona has not named a starting line-up, but the following players are all possible regulars: Barry Haanan, George Rocchi, Gary Ryan, Al Long, Wally King, Jean Firth, Dan Weld, Dennis Marc, Bob Berry, Dave Simmons, Jerry Kennedy, Gary Romrell, Earnest Howren and Mike Chapman.

The two Daly City clubs will engage in another practice tilt Thursday against Lincoln of San Francisco, and will travel to the Hayward Invitational Tournament Friday.

End Cloutier Wins Post On All-PAL Second Club

Jefferson High school's sensational quarterback Jim Honeywell was unanimous choice for "Player of the Year" and All-PAL quarterback as the Peninsula Sportswriters today announced their annual mythical all-star Gridiron teams.

The 180-pound senior engineered a team that was expected to finish somewhere near the cellar to six wins in eight starts and second place in the league.

SECOND ONLY to Tom Cloutier in the Jefferson pass-catching machinery was end Ted Amirkhan, who was given honorable mention on the All-PAL team and was selected to the second team of the All-NPAL eleven.

He passed and ran for a phenomenal season total of 1299 yards, outdistancing his closest competitor by more than 300 yards.

His selection to the PAL team and designation as "Player of the Year" enhanced his chances to win honors on the All-Northern California team soon to be announced.

That Honeywell was the spark-plug of the Jefferson attack was apparent by the sportswriters choice, since although Jeff finished second, no other Indian griddier was named to the All-PAL first club.

Cloutier Second Team
The Daly City high school placed one man on the mythical second team. He was End Tom Cloutier, who had the third best average in the circuit for pass catching average, and had the highest total in the league for number of yards gained on passes.

Cloutier was also named to the first platoon of the All Northern Peninsula Athletic league all-star club, made up of top players from North San Mateo county schools. Honeywell, naturally, was also selected as the NPAL quarterback.

Ted Amirkhan, another pass-snaring Jefferson end, was given honorable mention on the All-PAL team, as were Guard Bob Grubb, a two-way threat in the forward wall, and Halfback Ron O'Rourke, one of the Indians top runners.

Amirkhan was named to the second team of the NPAL eleven, as was Grubb. Receiving honorable mention for the NPAL team were O'Rourke, Tex Prentice, another hard-running back, and Don Wiesner, veteran offensive center.

Lincoln Dominates
The first team of the all-league eleven was dominated by the champions, Lincoln of San Jose, who placed three men in the forward wall and one player in the backfield.

South San Francisco gained two starting positions, while Palo Alto, Willow Glen, San Mateo, Jefferson and Menlo-Atherton each had one representative.

Following are the selections for the two mythical teams:
